Director's Message

Respected Stakeholders,

As we reflect on the achievements of the past year, I am honored to share the progress and impact of the Afghan Women Coordination & Promotion Organization (AWCPO). The year 2024 has been a testament to our unwavering commitment to empowering women, combating hunger, and fostering sustainable development in Afghanistan.

Despite the challenges faced by our communities, AWCPO has successfully implemented critical humanitarian programs, reaching over 858,130 beneficiaries across Kabul, Paktia, and Khost provinces. Through the Unconditional Seasonal Support Project, we provided food and cash assistance to 122,590 households, ensuring that thousands of vulnerable families had access to essential nutrition. Furthermore, our targeted interventions helped 41,618 pregnant and lactating women and 98,051 children receive necessary nutritional support, addressing malnutrition and improving maternal and child health.

Our commitment to women's empowerment remains at the core of our mission. By strengthening capacity-building initiatives, education, and livelihood programs, we continue to enable Afghan women to achieve economic independence and secure a dignified future. Our engagement with local communities through initiatives such as the Community Food Assistance Consultation Committees (CFACs) has enhanced transparency, accountability, and trust with the people we serve.

Governance, accountability, and transparency have been key priorities for AWCPO. This year, we successfully conducted independent financial audits, developed new policies, and strengthened our operational frameworks. The organization also became a proud member of ACBAR (Agency Coordinating Body for Afghan Relief & Development), further solidifying our commitment to collaboration and excellence in humanitarian work.

Looking ahead, AWCPO remains dedicated to expanding its reach, strengthening partnerships, and advocating for sustainable solutions to the challenges faced by Afghan women and marginalized communities. We will continue to uphold our core values of humanity, impartiality, inclusivity, and transparency, ensuring that no individual is left behind.

I extend my deepest gratitude to our donors, partners, staff, volunteers, and community members for their unwavering support. It is through your dedication and generosity that we are able to bring hope and change to those in need. Together, we will continue our mission to build a hunger-free, just, and equitable Afghanistan.

Introductory meetings were arranged with relevant line departments including Directorate of Economy, relevant Provincial Directorates of Rural Rehabilitation and Development, Kabul's Directorate of Refugees and Repatriation, Kabul Municipality, local communities and other relevant stakeholders, explaining to them the nature, scope and implementation cycle of the projects in hand and its desired outcomes, Simultaneously orientation and trainings were organized for the involved staff enabling them to implement assigned tasks with utmost professionalism and transparency.

CFAC Formation & Trainings

New CFACs were formed in every PD/Districts during the projects aiming to achieve greater coordination and transparency in beneficiary verification processes. Community Food Assistance Consultation is an elected committee formed based on complete profile of PD/District by AWCPO's team under the monitoring of WFP monitors in urban/rural districts through an elective process where one or more villages/districts are put together to form a single CFAC. Each CFAC consists ten Members of reputed representatives of various districts and Guzars responsible for various activities within a CFAC such as facilitator/coordinator, co-facilitator/co-coordinator, list verification lead, list verification co-lead, list assessment lead, list assessment co-lead, academia, female representatives, youth representatives, representative of people with disabilities and civil society representatives (provided that they are available).

Survey and Targeting

The families included in the beneficiary list shared with AWCPO were verified door to door by AWCPO's survey team using MODA. Once survey was completed and relevant data was collected, given that the surveyed family fulfilled WPF's selection criteria, a member of the targeted family received a SCOPE registration card and was sent to the SCOPE registration center in order to be registered. AWCPO's survey team would write a code in beneficiary's door for them to be identified as surveyed households. In cases where the proposed beneficiary did not match the selection criteria, another household from the same locality was surveyed and included in the beneficiary list.

SCOPE registration took place after the completion of verification. Two members of the selected households were registered as principal and alternate beneficiaries in order to ensure that in instances where the principal beneficiary was absent, his alternate could receive the assistance. Basic information of the beneficiary and Fingerprints, Pictures of the beneficiary and his/her alternate gets registered in the system and after the completion of SCOPE registration, beneficiary received a SCOPE token. Only the token holders were allowed to enter the distribution center and receive assistance throughout the project.

A person wearing a backpack and a light-colored shirt is painting the text 'WFP-AWG' on a large, textured, light-colored wall. The person is standing on a sandy, arid ground under a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds. The wall is made of a rough, plaster-like material. The person is using a brush to paint the letters, which are in a bold, sans-serif font. The wall is the central focus of the image, and the person is positioned to the left of the wall, facing it. The ground is dry and sandy with some sparse, low-lying vegetation. The sky is a clear, vibrant blue with a few wispy white clouds. The overall scene suggests a field project or a community art initiative in a dry, open environment.
